

Concierge Services For Your Bulk & Custom Needs

Try our Concierge services to free up your valuable research and procurement time.

Antibody Sourcing

Do you have a list of gene targets that you need to find suitable antibodies against? Delegate this time consuming task to your Novus Concierge. We will do the research and find the products that match your needs and keep your project moving forward. Your concierge will utilize our extensive portfolio of products, leverage our supplier relationships, and consult our scientific experts to resource the optimal product for your needs.

Custom Buffers/Concentrations

Have you found a product that looks suitable for your application, but is in the wrong buffer or concentration? Your concierge can offer many of our bulk items in custom formulations.

Custom Conjugation

Let us conjugate your antibody to a wide array of fluorophores.

Price Incentives

Your Novus Concierge can offer you discounted pricing for large orders. Discounts apply to orders of bulk quantities of products or multiple products on a single order.

Antibody Production/Licensing

Interested in custom antibody production services? Novus offers custom antibody production services for both monoclonal and polyclonal antibodies. In addition, we have an expert licensing team that can locate and license commercially available monoclonal antibodies and produce them at lower costs.

Novus is taking service to the next level with our Concierge services. This new level of service utilizes our capabilities to source and/or produce many custom products for your specific needs. Your Concierge will assist you with the navigation and selection of products to meet your needs. Select from our extensive product offering including primary antibodies (monoclonal and polyclonal), secondary antibodies (conjugated and unconjugated), proteins, kits, (ELISA & Conjugation), lysates (overexpression and tissue), antibody pairs and isotype controls. If we do not offer the perfect product, we can utilize our relationships with global suppliers and coordinate custom productions.
